Week ending 10th February 2017

From Mrs Barber

The children have been reminded on how to stay safe online during our Safer Internet Day. This is an increasing concern as more of our children readily use mobile phones, tablets and computers at home. For advice on keeping your child safe go to:

Happy Reading—Scholastic Books

An online group account has been set up for parents and school. If you order any books and pay online the books will be delivered to school free of charge. This group order will close on the 10th February. The school will receive commission on any orders placed. There is a wide selection at reduced prices.
