From Mrs Mayo

Thank you for your continued support this half term and the understanding shown when we have not been inviting parents on site as much as we would have liked. The children have settled so well this half term and have all been working incredibly hard.

The sharing assemblies were fantastic this week and the children all enjoyed sharing what they have been focusing on in class. Please find a link to these on our website under the whole school gallery.

The school disco was another highlight this week and we enjoyed the children showing off their best moves. Thank you to all of the hard work that FUSS put in to this. FUSS have also started to work hard on next terms fundraising events one of them being the Christmas fayre. Due to the size of the school and how popular our Christmas fayres are, we have decided not to hold this like we usually do. This year, we will holding one for the children during school time so that the children still have one of the school's special Christmas events. Children will be invited to bring some money in to spend on the Christmas stalls some of which will be run by the KS2 children. There will also be an opportunity for children to visit Santa in his grotto on the Christmas Fayre afternoon and the children will be creating Christmas crafts that will be able to be bought via the school shop.

We all wish you all a healthy and happy half term and look forward to seeing all children back at school on Tuesday 2nd November.

National Apple Day

On Thursday, it was National Apple Day. This day is a celebration of all things concerning apples and orchards. Historically Upton Snodsbury was described as 'the village in the orchards' so we thought we would celebrate this event in school. As part of it, Paul came in and showed us all how apples are pressed to make apple juice which some of us had a taste.
